Hospitalbuild China
Distinguished Hospital Basic Construction Chiefs and Business Management Representatives

Over the past decade, with the steady increase of comprehensive national strength, China’s modernization of hospitals has made tremendous progress. Since 2009, China launched the new round of deepening the reform of health, in order to achieve the development goals of establishing a basic medical and health system covering both urban and rural residents and on the whole everybody has access to primary health care service, the government has increased investment in the medical field. From 2009 to 2011, the central government arranged specific investment of 59.6 billion yuan to support 2,233 county level hospital, 6,213 central hospitals, 2,382 urban community health service centers, 25,000 village clinics, 544 mental health facilities, 127 general practitioner training bases and 802 rural emergency agencies to further improve the medical service system. All levels of government and medical institutions also gradually increase investment and continue to strengthen the construction of medical institutions. According to incomplete statistics, in the past three years, the investment of medical institution building is nearly amount to 200 billion yuan.

During the “12th Five-Year” period, China will continue to increase government investment, improve the health care system and focus on strengthening the weak link in hospital building. Beside the sustained investment on county hospitals, township hospitals, county emergency agencies in rural areas and construction of general practitioner clinical base, China also plans to arrange special investment on children’s specialist hospital and pediatrics general hospital, city (prefecture) level of hospital construction. The development of hospital construction will usher in a new period.

As professional hospital management research organization affiliated with the Ministry of Health, we have tried to promote and facilitate the development of modern hospital construction in China, specializing research and international exchange. The China Hospital Construction Forum, which has been held for thirteen years, was a comprehensive communication platform under this theme. Currently, the forum has developed into the largest professional conference in China and the Asia-Pacific region with great reputation and professional influence. In the coming 2013, the China Hospital Construction Forum and Hospital Build & Infrastructure China will be held in Nanjing, the second largest city in East China. On behalf of the organizing committee, I am honored to invite experts, academics, investors from both domestic and overseas to participate in this great event!
China Hospital Construction Forum has held successful 13 editions; it is regarded as the significant conference won’t be missed within Chinese hospital construction industry. The forum is famous for its related content referring hospital projects under construction across the country, and aims to improve hospital build and management by analyzing and addressing both typical and ad-hoc problems that may materialize during the hospital build process.

As the Diamond Sponsor of the event, we are very grateful for the great platform. It is a high level exhibition; many well-known enterprises of the industry exhibited the show. We met many potential clients during the show and the event successfully helped us to establish new business contact. We met our overall object and we’ll exhibit again.
